About us	Wilhelm Schmidt GmbH manufactures precision components, small-batch production runs, and custom solutions for demanding industrial applications. Our range of services combines CNC and conventional machining with 3D coordinate measuring technology, vertical turning, dynamic balancing, welding, and thermal coating. As part of the Wilhelm Schmidt Group, we work together with Konstrukta Ingenieurgesellschaft für Sondermaschinenbau mbH to offer integrated expertise in manufacturing, engineering, and service. This includes the fields of sealing technology, fixture construction, handling tools, and special-purpose machinery—from the initial technical specifications to the finished product.
