„The Master's program in European Management offers an introduction to European business and the European economy for a truly global studentship. At the same time, it is firmly entrenched in the Brandenburg region and benefits from its location in the metropolitan area of Berlin. Besides providing a solid education in the core fields of business administration, the curriculum offers various opportunities to gain a wider perspective, for example, by learning about European politics and institutions, delving into the complexities of European Identities, and engaging in an International Business Project.“
